THE HERALD.

JOHN P. BARRETT, Editor.

WEDNESDAY.....MAY 7th, 1879.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Hon. R. P. HOCKER, is a candidate for the Legislature, subject to the action of the Democratic party. Election August 1879.

Democratic State Ticket.

FOR GOVERNOR,
DR. LUKE P. BLACKBURN,
Of Jefferson County.

FOR LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR,
HON. JAS. E. CANTRELL,
Of Scott County.

FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL,
P. W. HARDIN,
Of Mercer County.

FOR AUDITOR,
GEN. FAYETTE HEWITT,
Of Hardin County.

FOR TREASURER,
HON. J. W. TATE,
Of Franklin County.

FOR SUP. PUBLIC INSTRUCTION,
PROF. J. DESHA PICKETT,
Of Fayette County.

FOR REGISTER OF THE LAND OFFICE,
CAPT. RALPH SHELDON,
Of Nelson County.

CONGRESSMAN RUSH CLARK, from the Fifth Iowa District, died in Washington, on Monday of last week.

WE this week furnish our readers a supplement, containing a full account of the recent Democratic State Convention and the President's veto message and much other interesting matter.

THOS. BUFORD was indicted on the 28th ult., for murder in the first degree. His trial was postponed to the third Monday in May.

Our man for Treasurer of State is Honorable J. W. Tate; He'll get there too, in spite of fate, while R. P. Stoll will be too late.

OUR candidate for Lieutenant Governor, Can-trill softer, sweeter, more melodious and in a strain that will suit the great masses of Kentucky voters better than that bird from Robertson county.

JOHN A. BENNETT, Esq., publicly accepted the nomination of the Greenback party, at the Courthouse, last Monday, and announced his intention of running the race through for the Legislature.

By the time the present State canvass closes, W. O. Bradley, of Garrard county, will conclude that the Democratic candidate for Attorney General, is a Hardin to handle, in some race before the people.

THE Republicans will make the best possible show in the State canvass, but our candidate from Hardin county will Hewitt right through to the Auditor's office, and when he gets there he will make one of the best Auditors the State has ever had.

As we expected, the President vetoed the Army Appropriation Bill passed by both Houses of Congress. He has now placed himself squarely in favor of military interference at the polls, and on that issue, the Democrats can afford to make a contest.

THE Democratic State Convention entertained fears that our fellow-citizen, Prof. Malcolm McMurtry, would make a raid on the office of Superintendent of Public Instruction, so they placed a true-tried and faithful Pickett on guard, to keep him out. Guess he'll do it, too.

OUR Luke will not give up the gun, but will shoot hot shot into the Republican ranks in the way of telling the people of their misdeeds, partisan legislation and extravagant expenditures, and on the first Monday in August, 1879 he will shoot into the Governor's office by the largest majority ever given any man for that position.

OHIO county was represented in the recent State Democratic Convention, by Hon. H. D. McHenry, Hon. E. D. Walker, Judge W. F. Gregory, Hon. S. E. Hill, Dr. B. N. Patterson, Prof. W. P. Hayward, L. P. Barnard and John P. Barrett. The instructions given the delegates by the Democrats in county convention, were strictly observed.

THE Republicans during thirteen years of their control of Congress, passed 388 measures attached as riders on appropriation bills, but now that the Democrats pass a single bill in that way, it is high treason, rebellion, and fearfully wrong. The very bill sought to be repealed, was passed in the very way the repeal passed last week, and yet the soi-disant President must veto it.

THERE are about 90,000 Republican voters in Kentucky. Of this number about 60,000 are colored. More than half of the rank and file of the party, the unflinching workers and voters, are negroes—yet they have no representation whatever on the ticket for State offices. The Republicans are always raising a howl about the injustice of Democrats to negroes, when it comes to dealing out the honors and emoluments in their party the poor "man and brother" is never given a smell.—[New Era.]

THE Democrats are going to fight it out on the repeal of the soldiers-at-the-polls law, if it takes all Summer. They offered last Monday, the following separate and independent bill, A BILL TO PREVENT MILITARY INTERFERENCE AT THE POLLS.

WHEREAS, the use of troops at the polls is contrary to the spirit of our institutions and traditions of our people; therefore,

Be it enacted, That so much of sections 2,002 and 5,528 and so much of all other laws and parts of laws as authorize or allow the use of arms or navy of the United States at the place where any general or special election is being held, be and the same are hereby repealed.

There is a proviso to the bill, that is not to be construed to interfere with the law of 1795, which gives the machinery for carrying out the provision of the Constitution whereby the President is to respond with troops to suppress domestic violence in the States.

The bill was introduced by Mr. Ladd, of Maine, who has been counted as one of the Greenbackers. The caucus determined that debate should be resisted, and the bill quickly sent to the President. It is so drawn as to leave the President no excuse, so far as his message indicates, for refusing his signature.

MORGANTOWN ITEMS.

MORGANTOWN, April 30. Editor Herald:

Miss L. J. Smith, W. A. Helm, P. G. Whittaker and T. J. Bunch left on the boat, last evening for Louisville, to participate in the routine formalities of making Dr. L. P. Blackburn governor of Kentucky. As there will probably be some balloting to do, between the aspirants for other offices, the convention may become interesting never-the-less.

We are having quite a revival of religious interest in our place,—quite a number of the Sabbath School attendants, have professed a saving faith in Christ. The Sabbath School seems to be the ante-chamber to the church in these days, more than it did, many years ago.

The mad-dog, fever (or foolishness) is prevailing here with every body, no body bitten yet.

The Rev. Cyrus Alexander Hamilton, A. M. D. D., (there is nothing in a name,—a rose would smell just as sweet &c.) of Madelia, Minnesota; preached to a crowded house at this place on last Sabbath, at 3 o'clock, P. M. His text was the 21st, 22nd and 23rd verses of the 17th chapter of St. John's gospel—the theme—or great central thought in his sermon was "Christian Unity." He showed that the oneness prayed for by the Savior was not uniformity of church polity or externals but the true unity for which he prayed and for which His Disciples should never cease to pray, is a unity of spirit, a unity in the strongest bonds of Christ-like charity. He quietly conducted the minds of his hearers, up from the narrow teaching of sectarianism into the higher and purer atmosphere of infinite love. He pointed to Christ as the great pattern, whose holy example we should endeavor, in some degree, at least, to imitate.

Although Mr. Hampton was born and reared, in this community, He is the first preacher of the Congregational denomination, that was ever heard in this county, or perhaps by any of his audience. His stay with us was short. He preached but twice during his visit, but he leaves behind him impressions that time will only brighten, and make more sacred. The earnest, and devout prayers, and best wishes, of many, who were almost strangers to him, will follow him to his home in the far west.

BEAVER DAM, May 6. Editor Herald:

Dr. J. S. Coleman delivered on yesterday, the finest discourse ever delivered at this place, and those who have heard the finest talent in this and other States, say his sermon yesterday excelled anything that they have ever heard. He preached from the same passage of scripture that he did just one quarter of a century ago, Matt, 5th chapter and 4th verse. Owing to the inclement weather there was not as many there by as would have been had the morning been favorable. The house however, was almost full, I never in my life saw more quiet and attentive, and spell-bound audience. The people could not keep their eyes off of him and seemed as if they could have listened to him for hours without being the least wearied. It is our intention to have him preach once a month, during the Summer if he will. Nothing could afford the community more pleasure than have him do so. If I could have taken his entire sermon, and down and give it to you for publication, your many readers would have enjoyed the perusal of it.

Messrs M. F. Hines and M. T. Barnard, returned from a trip to the Mammoth Cave. They report a gay time and were pleased as well as surprised at the wonders they saw. An unfortunate accident befell Mr. Hines. While in Bowling Green, he left his valise in his room when he went out, and on his return found the valise open and all his money, $208, gone. He found no clue to the robbery but himself.

Mr. M. Stanley, of Cowell Mines, was in town Sunday. He reports his mines in fine condition and has good coal.

The heavy rains of Saturday and Sunday was of great benefit to everything, as the ground had become very dry.

Miss Verda Gentry is quite ill with a fever. She has not been able to teach school for two weeks, and may not be able to complete the term.

Sickness has somewhat abated during the last week.

GREENVILLE KY., April 30. Editor Herald:

Our Circuit Court, Judge R. S. Bolling, presiding, convened on 21st. Commonwealth Attorney, Walker, did not put in an appearance on the first day, and his Honor appointed J. C. Thompson, Esq., and members of his bar, as his substitutes.

The Grand Jury was duly empaneled and the Judge gave them, (as he always does,) a lengthy, elaborate and able charge. The Grand Jury was composed of the very best men of the county, in fact, I have never seen one composed of better, (if as good) during the time I have been practicing at this bar. They brought into court 27 indictments, 1 for house-breaking, 12 deadly weapons, 4 assault and battery, 2 selling liquor to minors, 3 breach of peace, 3 disturbing religious worship.

The Petit Jury was of the better class of citizens, and was of the opinion that both juries were exceptionally good, the best that have been chosen for years, if ever there was better, and in proof, more business was dispatched by them, in less time, than was ever done before.

We had a busy term. Most of the prosecutions were continued. Three out of the five trials had, resulted in conviction.

G. S. Gibbs, for carrying concealed weapons, was fined $25 and 10 days imprisonment. Motion for new trial, and continued to next term. This is a hard case, probably Gibbs technical violation of the law, but the offense is to be grave. He is of good fame, in bad health—consumption, and confinement would endanger his life, hence the postponement of his application for new trial.

William, alias Bill Lewis, colored, was given two years at Frankfort, for house-breaking. Was arrested on Friday, before court, indicted, tried, convicted and sentenced within a week. Swift was it?

Hesse Tabor also went up for two years, for horse stealing. He pled guilty. Evidence was introduced to show he was of weak mind, and the court refused to convict the jury he was non compos mentis. He is young, but 17 years of age.

John Sutler was tried for setting up a gambling contrivance, (at our Fair last Fall) called a wheel of fortune. The evidence did not convince the jury that the said Sutler "set" the "wheel" up, but only that he gave it a turn or two, and then let him off.

Robert Duvall, colored, for "stealing from the person without putting in fear," was the trial of the court. The trial lasted two days. As it was somewhat of a novel case, I will give you, in part, the circumstances. At our Fair, last Fall, one E. Pace, as he stated, was inveigled into a fence-corner near the Fair-grounds, to be shown a trick, by one Ned Clark, a "colored individual," by which he, said Pace, could make money, and whilst said Clark was touching him "the trick," (which was nothing more than "three-card-monte") Duvall came up and offered to bet Pace he could not draw up the right card. Pace refused to bet, as he said, but was induced to bet for fun, pulled out a $100 bill, and whilst he had the bill behind his thumb and finger, either Clark or Duvall, one or the other, snatched it away, and off went.

There was some proof tendered to show Duvall won the money, but the jury believed Pace's tale, and sent Duvall up for three years, from which he has taken an appeal to the Court of Appeals, and will remain in jail for 60 days, to give time for the record to be filed in said court.

There was great interest taken in the trial, and able attorneys employed to prosecute beside the Commonwealth Attorney, Capt. Walker, (who put in an appearance on Wednesday,) the firm of Eaves & Eaves and W. H. Yost, Jr., assisted the prosecution. The defendant was represented by W. W. Taylor of Russellville, and our own counsel, Saul' Arnold. Success to you friend Jo.

The defense have great hopes of reversing the judgment of conviction.

The court did an immense amount of Equity business, worked off a considerable number of actions, take it all in all, there has been more work done than at any court for years. Enough of court business. But few strangers at court, but three visiting attorneys, Darby, of Princeton, Lyles of Russellville and Peter of Elton.

James Weir and wife, of Owensboro, are visiting his brother, Ed Weir, Sr., the weaver.

We had a wedding in town this evening, the high contracting parties were Mr. Joseph Haden, son of Geo. W. Haden, of the Paradise district, and Miss Sue Arnold, daughter of our townsmen, Saul' Arnold. Success to you friend Jo.

Weather beautiful, farmers engaged in planting corn, some done planting "Garden truck" is growing. In the fruit line, plenty of apples and smaller fruit, but no peaches.

SPLOVE.

IN MEMORIAM.

May Bennett, consort of Rev. Robert Bennett, of the Louisville Conference, was born April 6th, 1830, died April 19th, 1879, aged 49 years 13 days.

She passed away early in life, and entered with the Baptist church, of which she was a consistent member until called to join the church triumphant.

She was twice married. First to Albert Johnson, in 1859. In less than two years their union was severed by death. January 4th, 1877, she was married to Rev. Robert Bennett. She has been this union also; for soon disease took its withering grasp upon her, and after weary months of suffering, she passed to the "land where the inhabitant is never sick."

Though her illness was long and severe, it was borne with patience and fortitude. She was a devoted wife, a tender, gentle mother, an obedient daughter.

At the hour of departure, she was able, by grace, to speak words of comfort to her friends, expressing the hope that they would meet in their heavenly home.

To her father's family she sent word "not to grieve for her, but meet her in Heaven."

May the choicest blessings of the gospel sustain the deeply bereaved husband and all the sorrowing ones meet in the sun-bright clime above.

T. J. RANDOLPH.

WHEREAS, It has been evidenced to us, that Rev. R. P. Gabbard did, on the 27th day of April, 1879, come to his death by his own hands on account of indigestion and a chronic form of cerebral spinal meningitis, producing hydrocephalus and consequently, self-execution; therefore be it Resolved, 1st, That in the death of Brother Gabbard, the church has lost a most valuable and useful member, in the estimation of his Master. An honest man and exemplary Christian who would have been a great comfort to his brethren.

Resolved, 2d, That the community has, by his demise, been deprived of a good and worthy citizen, and that society has lost from her circle one of her brightest jewels, and temperance one of her strongest advocates.

Resolved, 3d, That Pelville Masonic Lodge, No. 157, fully regret the loss of Rev. Gabbard, and that the Lodge have done all in their power to sustain him in his affliction.

Resolved, 4th, That we furnish a copy of these resolutions to his bereaved family and also to the Owensboro Messenger, Examiner, and HARTFORD HERALD for publication, and that this Lodge be transplanted in the Grand Lodge above, the acacia-sprig shall flourish to make his abiding place in our memories.

Resolved, 5th, That we furnish a copy of these resolutions to his bereaved family and also to the Owensboro Messenger, Examiner, and HARTFORD HERALD for publication, and that this Lodge be transplanted in the Grand Lodge above, the acacia-sprig shall flourish to make his abiding place in our memories.

Resolved, 6th, That we furnish a copy of these resolutions to his bereaved family and also to the Owensboro Messenger, Examiner, and HARTFORD HERALD for publication, and that this Lodge be transplanted in the Grand Lodge above, the acacia-sprig shall flourish to make his abiding place in our memories.

Resolved, 7th, That we furnish a copy of these resolutions to his bereaved family and also to the Owensboro Messenger, Examiner, and HARTFORD HERALD for publication, and that this Lodge be transplanted in the Grand Lodge above, the acacia-sprig shall flourish to make his abiding place in our memories.

Resolved, 8th, That we furnish a copy of these resolutions to his bereaved family and also to the Owensboro Messenger, Examiner, and HARTFORD HERALD for publication, and that this Lodge be transplanted in the Grand Lodge above, the acacia-sprig shall flourish to make his abiding place in our memories.

Resolved, 9th, That we furnish a copy of these resolutions to his bereaved family and also to the Owensboro Messenger, Examiner, and HARTFORD HERALD for publication, and that this Lodge be transplanted in the Grand Lodge above, the acacia-sprig shall flourish to make his abiding place in our memories.

Resolved, 10th, That we furnish a copy of these resolutions to his bereaved family and also to the Owensboro Messenger, Examiner, and HARTFORD HERALD for publication, and that this Lodge be transplanted in the Grand Lodge above, the acacia-sprig shall flourish to make his abiding place in our memories.

Resolved, 11th, That we furnish a copy of these resolutions to his bereaved family and also to the Owensboro Messenger, Examiner, and HARTFORD HERALD for publication, and that this Lodge be transplanted in the Grand Lodge above, the acacia-sprig shall flourish to make his abiding place in our memories.

Resolved, 12th, That we furnish a copy of these resolutions to his bereaved family and also to the Owensboro Messenger, Examiner, and HARTFORD HERALD for publication, and that this Lodge be transplanted in the Grand Lodge above, the acacia-sprig shall flourish to make his abiding place in our memories.

Resolved, 13th, That we furnish a copy of these resolutions to his bereaved family and also to the Owensboro Messenger, Examiner, and HARTFORD HERALD for publication, and that this Lodge be transplanted in the Grand Lodge above, the acacia-sprig shall flourish to make his abiding place in our memories.

Resolved, 14th, That we furnish a copy of these resolutions to his bereaved family and also to the Owensboro Messenger, Examiner, and HARTFORD HERALD for publication, and that this Lodge be transplanted in the Grand Lodge above, the acacia-sprig shall flourish to make his abiding place in our memories.

THE HERALD.

LYCERUS BARRETT.....Local Editor

WEDNESDAY, MAY 7th, 1879.

—Moonlight nights.
—Frost, Friday morning.

—Gents Scarfs in great variety at the Bazar.

—A scene that dazzles the eyes—I. P. Barnard's store, Beaver Dam.

—Best syrups of all kinds, at R. P. Row's.

—Wall paper in great variety, at Fonda's.

—Hamburg edgings lower than ever at the Bazar.

—New goods at V. P. Addington's for sale, cheap.

—Home Laundry shirts can be found at the Bazar.

—Mad-dogs are reported at Rosine, and Rock, our, this country.

—Go to R. P. Row's and buy a good set of hand-made buggy harness for $12.50.

—Ladies' saddles, bridles, &c., cheaper than the cheapest at F. P. Row's.

—Haden & Field say they're willing and able, and keep the very best Livery Stable.

—The Bazar is a nice place to leave your wife and daughters, while you attend to your court business.

—Everybody that comes to Court next week, had better "jist" go and see GEO. A. PLATT.

—A. B. will open a fine line of Ladies', Misses and Children's embroidered hose this week.

—New Goods at Rogers & King, Buford, Ky. Call and examine prices, and we insure a sale.

—For the newest, neatest, nobiest goods in the country, go to Beaver Dam, and see I. P. BARNARD.

—I. P. Barnard, Beaver Dam, has ladies' hats, trimmed by an experienced milliner, for sale.

—Gents, we have just received a nice lot of underwear, of the latest colors and styles. Call at A. B.

—Fresh arrival, at Hardwick & Nall's, of new goods, daily, the remainder of this week.

—Wm. White, Secretary of the Grand Lodge of I. O. O. F., organized Beacon Lodge, No. 273, at McHenry, last Monday night. The officers elected, are as follows: Levi Millard, N. G.; W. G. Duncan, V. G.; Dr. V. M. Taylor, Sec.; Robt Duncan, Treas.

—There were three persons sentenced to the penitentiary from the Muhlenberg Circuit Court, to wit: Bob Duvall of color, charged with snatching a $100 bill from E. O. Pace, at the Greenville fair last fall, Hess Taylor, fo horse-stealing, and Wm. Davis for house-breaking.

—Many of our young Americans about town, will be glad to hear of Mr. Frank Anderson. We have received a letter from him, giving his location as Elkville, Jackson county, Illinois. He is working on a farm. He reports the wheat crop as very fine, but says the farmers are fearfully behind with their spring work.

—Mr. W. D. Coleman furnished us some very fine specimens of wool, Monday, from his cotswold sheep. The specimens from the buck being 13 inches, and from the ewe 10 inches long. His whole flock of 13 yielded him an average of 12½ pounds of wool per head. The smallest fleece weighed eight pounds, and the heaviest weighed 15½.

—Jesse Robertson desires to inform the people of this vicinity that he has come to stay, and is prepared to do any and all kinds of work in the Tonsorial line. His Barber Shop is as nice and clean as a palace or parlor, and it is a real luxury to go into such a place to get shaved or have your hair trimmed. Patronize Jesse, for he does it well.

—Haden & Field are "duly and truly prepared" to take care of all the horses that come to town next week. They have feed in abundance, and having no other iron in the fire, they will give their personal attention to stock left at their stable, which will thus be apter to receive proper attention, than if left solely to the care of hired help.

—The Committee appointed to let the rebuilding of the amphitheatre of our Fair Grounds, received several bids on last Thursday. There were several contestants, Dan Heybach, of Litchfield M. P. McDowell, J. J. Felix and Wm. H. Mauzy. The board met the same evening and rejected all the bids concluding that the bids were too high. The Company will probably do the work themselves.

—The following is not by the author of "The Dove," but by our "village poet," who never wrote anything about the sweet-and-bay:

The bare-foot days have come again,
The happiest of the year;
When average small-boys sit their toe,
And boo-hoo with many a tear. —[Meade County Record.

The melancholy days have come,
The saddest of the year;
Of scrubbing floors, painting hearths,
And scouring far and near.

—We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company, of Hartford, Conn., appearing in this issue. This is one of, if not the best Life Insurance Company in existence. It has no stock holders, but is a purely mutual company. It is managed very economically, in fact, it presents a better showing in that respect, than any other company extant. It is on a firm basis, and is in no danger whatever, of failure. It pays its losses promptly. This company had a policy on the life of Dr. Hill, of Owensboro, for $10,000, and paid it promptly. It is the binding duty of every man with family to have a good life policy and you could not do better than invest in the Connecticut Mutual.

—If your wife and daughter cannot visit the Bazar when you come to court next week, and will not risk your selection, we will gladly send them samples of our goods, from which to make selections.

—Rev. W. P. Bennett united Mr. Nathaniel Matthews and Miss Mary B. Brandon, at the Clerk's office, last Monday morning. The happy pair left from the North-east end of the county.

—H. B. Taylor sheared three of his yearling lambs bought of McFerrin last fall, which yielded 30 pounds. One was a buck and the other two were ewes. The wool from the buck lamb was 13 inches long.

—We invite the attention of our readers to the advertisement of I. P. Barnard, Beaver Dam. Call and see his immense stock of goods examine his prices, and you will be sure to buy.

—If your wife and daughter can't visit the Bazar when you come to court next week and will not risk your selection, let them send to the Bazar for samples as we take pleasure in distributing specimens of our goods through the country.

—A Large number of the citizens of town were prevented from attending church at Beaver Dam, Sunday, to hear Rev. J. S. Coleman deliver his quarter Centennial sermon, on account of rain.

—F. M. Heaven was brought before Judge Newton, on last Friday, upon the charge of assaulting George Peck with a Hickory stick. The Jury concluded that he had beat $10 worth out of him, and consequently assessed him at that amount.

—The Echo gives an account of the marriage of Joe C. Haden, of Paradise and Miss Sue Arnold, of Greenville, April 29. Mr. Haden is one of the leading young men of Muhlenberg and Miss Arnold is the favorite of all who know her.

—Remember well and bear in mind, a trusty Livery Stable is hard to find. Haden & Field keep that sort. Your horse entrusted to them will receive better care, better feed, better attention, than he would at your own stable.

—The Bazar is a nice place to leave your wife and daughters, while you attend to your court business.

—Everybody that comes to Court next week, had better "jist" go and see GEO. A. PLATT.

—A. B. will open a fine line of Ladies', Misses and Children's embroidered hose this week.

—New Goods at Rogers & King, Buford, Ky. Call and examine prices, and we insure a sale.

—For the newest, neatest, nobiest goods in the country, go to Beaver Dam, and see I. P. BARNARD.

—I. P. Barnard, Beaver Dam, has ladies' hats, trimmed by an experienced milliner, for sale.

—Gents, we have just received a nice lot of underwear, of the latest colors and styles. Call at A. B.

—Fresh arrival, at Hardwick & Nall's, of new goods, daily, the remainder of this week.

—Wm. White, Secretary of the Grand Lodge of I. O. O. F., organized Beacon Lodge, No. 273, at McHenry, last Monday night. The officers elected, are as follows: Levi Millard, N. G.; W. G. Duncan, V. G.; Dr. V. M. Taylor, Sec.; Robt Duncan, Treas.
